

family wandering emergency plan

Make sure your family has a plan in case of a wandering emergency. Before an emergency happens, sit down together and decide how you will get in contact with each other, where you will go and what you will do in an emergency. Keep a copy of this plan in your emergency supply kit or another safe place where you can access it in the event your child is missing.

critical information

emergency steps:

- ALWAYS CALL 911 IMMEDIATELY IF YOUR LOVED ONE IS MISSING FROM YOUR HOME.
- Clearly state your child's name.
- State that they have a cognitive impairment, provide the diagnosis, state they are endangered and have a cognitive impairment.
- Provide your child's radio frequency tracking number (if applicable).
- Provide your child's date of birth, height, weight, and any other unique identifiers such as eyeglasses and medical conditions.
- Tell them when you noticed that your child was missing and what clothing he or she was wearing.
- Request an AMBER Alert be issued (if your child is a minor) or a Silver Alert be issued (if your child is an adult).
- Request that your child's name and identifying information be immediately entered into the National Crime Information Center (NCIC) Missing Person File.
- Search known areas your child would likely be, or attracted to. If you have an emergency point person, neighbors, pick up your other children from school, watch your children, etc., alert them while searching. If you have other small children, never leave them unattended.

TIP: create an emergency point person who can contact neighbors, fax your alert to local law enforcement, and assist in making arrangements for your other children.
